STANLEY G. TROTT, P. M.

POSTOFFICE NOTICE. - An evening mail for Augus ta and Savannah, and for distribution beyond those offices, will close daily at the Postoffice at half-past

PERSONAL.-Col. R. BARNWELL RHETT, Jr., and lady, arrived yesterday from Huntsville, Ala., and are staying at the Mills House.

GUNNY BAGGING.-Messis. John G. MILNOR & Co. yesterday sold for cash, on account of the underwriters and all concerned, 25 bales of gunny bagging, as follows: 5 bales at 241; 10 at 24, and 10 at 23‡ cents.

Mr. C. C. Bowen, lately sent to Castle Pinckney by the military authorities, was released on Monday afternoon, upon depositing a sum of money sufficient in amount to cover the alleged claim against him. and executing a bond for his appear-SIGRLES! SICKLES!-The march of improvement is nowhere more visible than in the upper part of King street, and few establishments on this street can vie with Marshall's hardware store at No. 810. In addition to the former complete stock a fresh supply has been recently received, embracing every variety of agricultural and mechanical instruments. Mr. MARSHALL has endeavored to keep up with the spirit of the times, and has imported a number of sickles that will be found extremely useful to the farmers in gathering their crops. It would be an endless task to enumerate the articles in Mr. MARSHALL's store, and we refer our readers first to the advertisement, and then to

FORTUNATE ESCAPE.-Mr. C. F. STEINMEYER, brother, and Mr. BECKMAN, were returning yesterday from the plantation of the latter, on Ashley River, in their pleasure boat, the Lizzie, when they were struck by a sudden squall which came up from the northeast. The boat was immediately capsized and the gentlemen thrown into the water. Fortunately they were enabled to get on the bottom of the boat, but it was in a lonely part of the river, and they drifted with the tide until they reached a flat tied to the new bridge, where they received assistance from some colored man. The party were in the water for nearly two hours, and their escape is almost providential, when it is remembered how many sharks are usually caught in the Ashley River.

AN ECONOMICAL ICE HOUSE.—During the present intenes heat it is extremely difficult to preserve ice from melting, and it becomes necessary to invest largely in order to secure the correct temperature. A contrivance has been recently invented that will not only effect a great saving of ice, but is so simple as to be in the reach of all. It consists of a stone jar placed upon and surrounded with a bed of rosin, the whole contrivance being enclose in a box. It is easily made, the bed being first made of rosin in the box, the jar placed upon it, and then melted rosin poured into the box, thus Alling up completely all of the interstices. It is a very simple and cheap contrivance, and can be easily made by any housekeeper. By its use they can save at least fifty per cent. of the amount of ice now used in a day.

We find the follow ing good "hit" in an exchange. Those who have been in the "noospaper" business, and have ever been afflicted, will appreciate it:

been afflicted, will appreciate it:

A publisher of a paper made arrangements with a man in a neighboring town to furnish him with news items from that locality. The result of the arrangement is as follows, and was rather startling to the editor: "There is not much noos around here yit, but there is a littul. A man had his hed cut in a fite last nite, the doctur sez if he don't git well before mornin, that he will hev to die sartin; he leves 1 small wife and family. Another man is sick and I guess he'z got the kolery but sum people say his wife pizened him, the doctur hant tell yit, but when he dies they are goin to hold a post morting over him. Another mans a horse dide last nite. He could eat most than emmy 5 kattul round, and since he dide oats hev gone down to sants on a bushel. This is all the noos here now. Don't furgit to send a paypur."

BLOUS ACCIDENT. On Sunday evening last, out dark, a youth in Market street indulged in ancient but not altogether safe pastime of riding on a rail;" the rail being that of a banister. He lost his balance, and a young lady relative, sitting in the piazza at the time, observing it, ran up to his rescue; but he was too heavy, and by his weight unfortunately dragged her over, and both fell from the second story upon the flags, about twenty feet. Both were insensible. Dr. E. H. KELLERS was at once sent for, and soon after Dr. F. M. Robertson. The young man suffered considerably from contusion and shock, but is now out of danger. The young lady was more seriously injured. On examination she was found to have a fracture of the clavicle, and a violent contusion of the head. She was considered in a very critical condition for forty-eight hours, but, we believe, is now pronounced out of danger by the attending physician.

THE MENDENHALL LOOM AND THE MANUFAC-TURING PROSPECTS OF CHARLESTON. -Since the atention of the South has been turned to the develnent of her manufacturing resources there have n companies formed and factories started in different States, and the busy hum of the machinery is now a familiar sound. So far this State has received but little benefit from this source, the attention of the people being turned solely to agricultural pursuits; the factories were few and far between, and it was only in certain districts that any attempt was made to introduce the new doctrine. Since the war this has all changed, and every on now seems desirous to improve their ion by every means in their power, but particularly to develop the manufacturing interests o ction. Fortunately at this time a new and powerful agent has been produced, that bids fair to do more toward reconstructing the country than any other. We refer to the MENDENHALL Hand Power Loom, to which mention has already been made; wherever it has been introduced it has wrought a wonderful change by infusing life and energy into the people and destroying that apathy that had settled upon every one.

The patent right has been sold in most of the Southern States, and has proved a source of wealth to the purchasers, for they have resold the right to counties and districts, and the manufacture of the looms has opened a branch of industry heretofore unknown. The most encouraging reports have been received from these States, and the stock in companies that have been formed has atready risen above par. We have in a previous issue stated the peculiar advantages of this loom, as compared with others, and will not allude to them at present, but simply desire to call the attention of capitalists to the invention, and show to them that by purchasing the right for this State and North Carolina, they will secure an investment that, properly managed, will yield them a

By purchasing this right Charleston would soon be built up, "her waste places would be made glad, and the desert would blossom like the rose." It is useless to refer to the failures of the past, that is dead, and should be forgotten, but the future is hright, and if opportunities like the present are not neglected, it will far surpass the fondest dreams of both the enthusiast and the practical man. Charleston has every facility that is possessed by her sister cities, and needs but energy and application to make her surpass them. Augusts tried the experiment repeatedly before it proved successful, but she now has a fine manufacturing interest that is a source of wealth to the city. So it is with Atlanta, Selma, and hundreds of other cities, and so it should be with Charles-before them. Loom, designs offering the right to South Caro- send, when desired, a certificate, or written lina; but if no interest is taken in the subject guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By here, he will doubtless find men in the old North State who can see where money is to be made, and who will gladly purchase the patent right. A word to the wise is sufficient, and Charlestonians advancement.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION for the State of South Carolina meets to-day in Columbia. We earn that a large number of delegates are expected from every part of the State.

RELEASE FROM CASTLE PINCKNEY.-Mr. KEN-NEDY, the late Jailor, has been released from Castle Pinckney, where he had been confined by the military authorities, in consequence of the charges made by the parties concerned in the jail robbery. He is now an inmate of the jail, but we understand application will be made before Judge Moses for a writ of habeas corpus.

BE YE CLOTHED.—This is the advice of our friends, Geo. LITTLE & Co., whose establishment at No. 213 King street, offers inducements that few can resist. Not content with placing the price of their goods within the reach of all, they have lowered the tariff to such an extent that it is equivalent to giving them away. Their stock is perfect, and contains every article necessary to the welfare of man, and by a Little manipulating, they will really become what they claim, the lords of creation. Messrs. GEO. LITTLE & Co. are old and popular clothiers, and when they offer bargains, there need be no fear that the goods will not be what they are recommended. DUM VIVIMUS BIBAMUS.—If we were not a firm believer in familiar spirits, we should have become an instant convert yesterday; for our sand tum was invaded, our desk appropriated, and an odor of-sky spread around that immediately caused us to think of ethereal subjects. These visitants from the spirit land were of the highest rank, and were clad in gorgeous array. They were soon released from durance vile; and though we saw them first through a glass darkly, it was soon face to face. On questioning the [ebon Ganymede we were informed that our neighbors: Messrs. McKay & Campbell, No. 136 Meeting street, were engaged in performing the obsequies in a case affected by Order No: 32, and would to-day dispose at auction or private sale the finest lot of spirits ever produced in this market. The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and we are fully prepared to substantiate Ganymede's statement, for we have seldom tasted a better selection of every bibulant that could tempt the thirsty or cheer the wearv. Messrs, McKay & Campbell will to-day offer to th public bargains that should not be neglected. We have endeavored to do justice to the samples be fore us, and would advise an early visit to this abode of spirits. MAYOR'S COURT, July 23 .- A colored drayman who imagined his vehicle a war chariot, and drove fast and furiously, knocked down a small child in Church street, near Cumberland, breaking her leg. He was fined $5 for violating the city ordinance, and will be prosecute! by the parents of the child.

A notorious reprobate, Susan Hudson, whose name is seldom absent from the docket, was picked up in her usual collapsed state, and brought to her ark of refuge. All measures having failed to induce Susan to live a sober life, and even Order No. 32 proving to be of no avail, she was discharged as incurable. An Elliott street nymph who was quarelsome in

BRYAN presiding .- The case of the United States vs. 17 barrels of distilled spirits, &c., found in the store of W. H. Kidd. Information for forfeiture for violation of the internal revenue laws was continued. Able arguments were delivered by the counsel for the defence, and by the District Attorney. His Honor, Judge BRYAN, delivered an elaborate charge to the Jury quoting the legal authorities, and showing in what was the nature of the offence, and what laws were violated. The Jury after a short absence returned a verdict of On motion of the District Attorney the goods seized were declared forfeited, and ordered to be sold by the United States Marshal, the proceeds to be paid over to the registry of the court.

We understand that an application will be made this morning for a new trial, and, in event of failure, an appeal will be taken on the grounds that the tax receipts for the whiskey was ruled out as evidence which deprived the defendant of the power to show that he had conformed to the Internal Revenue Law.

THE MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGAN, after many improvements and modifications, has now reached that degree of perfection in construction, and that moderateness of cost that bring it within the reach of many who could not afford the expense of a good piano. No musical family in prosperous circumstances should fail to possess one of these beautiful instruments, which will prove at once an ornament to the room, a means of education to the young people, and an unfailing and inexpensive resource in social and solitary hours. Verdict of the Faculty.

STIMULANTS INDISPENSABLE AS MEDI.

The most distinguished physicians in the United State have recently been placed on the witness stand, and have, with one voice, declared that pure stimulants are valuable medicinal agents. This decision of the faculty refers especially to medicated stimulants, of which the purest and the best at present known is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Its basis is the alcoholic principle of the finest rye grown in the United States, and its erbal ingredients comprise the extracts of a large number of plants, barks and roots produced in various parts of the world, and all noted in the countries to which they are indigenous for their powerful sanative properties. As an invigorant and tonic, the value of the Bitters can scarcely be overrated. Hence its extraordinary effect in fever and agno and intermittents and remit tents of every type. Its anti-bilious properties are marrelious. Persons of bilious habit, by taking a small quantity once or twice a day, may completely change their constitutional tendency to liver disease, and escape all the unpleasant consequences which arise either from the undue sensitiveness or the unnatural torpidity of the biliary organ. Chronic constination is eradicated horoughly and in a very short space of time by small doses of this wholesome regular, taken night and morning; and for all the disorders which are superinduced by exhalations from decomposing vegetable and animal matter in the streets of cities, or the miasma of swampy districts; it is, when taken as a protective and preventive medicine, the most reliable of all safeguards

DILLON'S PATENT UNIVERSAL COTTON TIE No. 136 Meeting Street, Opposite And Iron Hoops,

THIS TIE, WITH THE HOOP COMPLETE, WEIGHS In on more than the usual Rope used in baling Cotton, and renders an allowance for tare unnecessary, the only Tie requiring no slack while putting on, and is so perfect that the necessity for heavy hoops to make up forthe deficiencies in the Tie is entirely civiated. Can be sold by the pound or ton as cheaply as the Henry Hoops and less perfect Ties. Each and every Tie is warranted perfect. Science and practical use will have the effect of the Iron Tie entirely superseding the use of rope, its combination of advantages, the preservation of the Cotton when baled from consumption by fire, rendering its security to Insurance Companies a matter for consideration both while in Warehouse or on shipboard, and its simplicity of use and economy combined. The inventor not finding a Tie adapted to the wants of both planter and compresser has devised this. For sale, in large or small quantities, by WILLIAM ROACH,

INGERSOLL'S HAND POWER COTTON PRESS

For Convenience, Economy and Cheapness, the greatest Labor Saving Machine that can be put on a Plantation.

> OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE: ALLENDALE, BAHNWELL DISTRICT, S. C. March 1, 1867.

Messrs. Little & Marshall:

GENTLEMEN: I used, during the past season, one of "Ingersoll's Portable Cotton Presses," purchased of you last september. I have always been prejudiced in favor of the "Screw Press," and nothing but dire necessity induced me to try any other. I take pleasure, however, in adding my testimony in favor of its entire adaptation to the wants of a cotton plantation. It has surpassed my most sanguine expectations. I have packed with but two hands, yet I prefer four—two at each lever. My bales all weighed over 500 lbs. The first lot I sent to market averaged 562 l.s. My impression is that 500 lbs. is about the capacity of the Press, and a greater number of pounds subject the follow-block to too much risk, unless the sides of the cotton box was increased. It would add greatly to the value of the Press if the cotton box was ten inches longer. In haste, I am, very respectfully, Your obedient servant, &c., B. W. LAWTON.
P. S. I took my Press down and carried it some four P. S. I took my Press down and carried it some four niles to pack the crop of a neighbor, who failed to have t "Screw" built; he was so much pleased that he has letermined to abandon the "Screw" and purchase "In-

GENTLEMEN: I have just received your letter of February 14th—upon my return to this place, after an absence of two months—and this reply may be too late for your "Descriptive Circular of Ingersoll's Cotton Press."
The Press I used in packing my cotton last year worked admirably, packing, with ease from 500 to 522 lbs. With good active hands to work if, I am satisfied that from eighteen to twonty bales might readily be packed in a day.

This Press combines the advantages of lightness, and consequent portability and simplicity (being easily man-Inis Fress combines the advantages of lightness, and consequent portability and simplicity (being easily managed b, any one of ordinary intelligence). Great compressing force, with little motive power, and "last, but not least," it is worked entirely by hand, thus saving for the farm horses the hard labor, imposed upon them by the use of the ordinary "Screw."

Respectfully Jes. Vones.

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL,

YALE COLLEGE, November 16, 1866.

I have always recommended the Faber Polygrade Lead Pencils as the only pencils fitted for both ornamental and mathematical drawing; but, after a thorough trial of the American Polygrade Lead Pencils, mantactured by the American Lead Pencil Company, New York, I find them superior to any pencil in use, even to the Faber or the old English Cumberlaud Lead Pencil being a superior pencil for sketching, ornamental and mechanical drawing, and all the ordinary uses of a lead

mechanical drawing, and an interdant seed of these pencils.

These pencils are very finely graded and have a very smooth lead; even the softest pencils hold the point well; they are all that can be desired in a pencil. It gives me great pleasure to be able to assure Americans that they will no longer be compelled to depend upon Germany or any other foreign market for pencils.
